If You Wish to Talk Watches

Come here. If you wish to see and ask watch questions—come here. Or for any other watch reason at all—come here. We expect to have to convince you before we sell you. Wouldn't have it any other way, any way, if we could. Like to show our watches, even if we don't sell. Because any one that sees can't forget. Four of the world's leading movements are what we have to show you and talk about. We repeat—have a look.

OBITUARY.

Be still prepared for death and death or life shall thereby be the sweeter—Shakespeare.

Mrs. Martin Munroe died at her home on Third street, Yale, Friday evening, March 10, 1911, at 5 o'clock.

Matilda Finch was born near Long Point, Ont. in 1828.

In 1849 she married Martin Munroe, who departed this life six years ago. The children who are left to mourn the death of a loving mother are:—James, of Blaine; L. R., of Yale; Adrain, of Blaine, Washington; Marlon, of Yale; Mrs. Jas. Armstrong, Upton, Wisc.; Mrs. Geo. Sawyer, Blaine; Mrs. Jesse Garney, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Munroe moved to the U. S. about 51 years ago, locating in Grant township, spent about four years in Clifford and the balance of time in Yale.

The funeral was held on Monday from the residence, Elder McCall and Rev. J. W. Saxbee officiating. Interment in Elmwood cemetery. All the children were present except Adrain and Mrs. Armstrong.

Mrs. Geo. Greenwood died at her home five miles north and east of Yale, Wednesday, March 15, 1911, at the age of 33 years, 2 months and 19 days, from bronchial pneumonia.

The funeral services will be held on Friday, Elder Cady preaching the sermon. Burial in Elmwood cemetery.

Deceased has been married about 15 years and leaves four children the oldest being about fourteen years.

CONTEST NEWS

Only a very few more weeks and the big Piano contest will be ended. The contestants have brought in a big list of new names, but there are lots more who are not on our list yet. So make a big hustle and get every man that does not take the Expositor to subscribe now. Don't let them put you off. Tell them that their refusal may be the means of your losing one of the valuable prizes we are offering.

Good hard work means a lot when out canvassing for a newspaper. The prizes will be awarded early in April, so you see you have only a short time to get after those who have promised to help you.

At five o'clock, Saturday afternoon March 25th we will give two more cash prizes to those who bring in the most new yearly subscribers. The one securing the largest number will receive $2.00 and the next highest $1.00. This will be from tomorrow (Friday) until the 25th. Don't get the dates mixed but every one go after the money.

The vote Wednesday evening is as follows:—

Lizzie Bowdoy	22150
Lucy Menerey	21645
Isla Adams	21040
Rosa Clark	19870
Mina Mosher	18340
Ray Richardson	15630
Ronald Toft	15565
Louise Bright	11510
Goldie McConnell	9410
Mary Lane	7940
Ethna Parren, R. E. Atkins	7380
Edith Mason, Ayova	6540

Lenten Services at Presbyterian Church

Next Tuesday evening will mark the opening service of a series of Lenten services that are to be held in the Presbyterian church. The services will start promptly at 7.30 and will not be more than an hour long. The preaching will be done by Rev. P. H. Case, the pastor, and visiting clergymen.

Yale has had no special services this winter and it is expected that these meetings will be well attended and will be of benefit to those who go. Every effort will be made to make them attractive. A most cordial invitation is extended to all.

Buy out Barber Shop

Edward and Henry Pratt have purchased the barber shop formerly conducted by Frank Mills on Sixth street and have taken possession. Arthur Palmer ran this shop for years selling out to Mr. Mills when he decided to go into the hotel business at Capac. The Pratts are brothers of Herb Pratt, who is connected with Don McPhee's barber shop—Port Huron Times-Herald March 10.

COLONIAL RECEPTION

A Grand Function That Will no Doubt be Made an Annual Event.

The prettiest function, of a large kind that Yale has seen in many a day or many a year, was the Colonial reception given in Central hall on Tuesday evening by Yale Chapter, Order of Eastern Stars.

This was a pleasure evening which the chapter meant to indulge in by itself, single members only having the privilege of an invitation to one other. The masses and their wives were also invited. Fully two hundred people were present.

As one came into the hall they were met by the receiving committee of ladies and gentlemen, looking like mesdames and sirs from 1775 come to life. They were then passed on to the dressing rooms and only when they came back into the hall did they take the first fair view of the room and the old-time gentry making so merrie. Never has the old hall been made to look so resplendent. The decoration committee must receive much praise in that their work was done so faultlessly. All in red, white and blue festoons of crepe paper, bunting and flags, innumerable covered and concealed bare walls and ceilings and the beautiful star, electrically lighted, in the south was the final touch.

Now how shall we describe the gay throng which moved about over the floor in quaint old-time costumes. Impossible. Get your neighbor to describe it for you. Suffice it to say that probably half the company had taken pains to don something that would have passed muster many years ago, and had the delight of the evening was in watching these. The grand march was taken up as soon as every one was there. Mrs. L. Roy Fuller, Worthy Matron, impersonating Mrs. Martha Washington, and J. E. Beavis, Worthy Patron, as George Washington, leading the march, was a long one and intricate, but very nicely done. Two pieces, violin and piano, of Stone's orchestra, Detroit, furnished the music and the list of dances following was made up largely of the old-time reels, schottisches, polkas, etc., much enjoyed by the older ones. Probably some who were crowded into the merry whirl hadn't danced for many years but this was their one night, and why not take advantage of it.

About midnight refreshment was served in the way of ice cream cones, which perhaps might not be a treat, served in a Colonial time, nevertheless, we vouch would have been if the people of those times had known of them and how good they could taste when one is heated with dancing.

Then again the giddy waltz was entered into as though we could not get enough and other dances followed until a scotch reel was done by four couples which elicited much applause. After this the Sweet Home Waltz came and the night was done. Two o'clock in the morning and the middle-aged lads and lasses were as fresh as the day, until getting up time on Wednesday.

We overheard someone say that we should have a Colonial or some such gathering each year, with such success as this one attained, no one will say nay to the suggestion.

Feed Barn Changes Hands

Last week a deal was consummated whereby the ten-cent barn was sold to Ed. Carless, possession of which he has assumed.

J. S. Ryno & Son six years ago built the barn here in Yale and have worked up a large business. It is an institution of great value to the city and liberally patronized. Messrs Ryno personally looked after the conducting of the business and all patrons were treated courteously and shown every accommodation possible. Mr. Carless in taking hold of the business will see to it that the same courteous treatment is given all. We bespeak for him success in his undertaking.

Smith & Cooper's Bargain Sale.

The Expositor office this week got out a half sheet bill for Smith & Cooper, the new firm, successors to N. Kerr & Son, advertising a ten-days' sale. The firm is offering great bargains to prospective buyers and on receiving one of the announcements it will pay you to read it over carefully then act at once for the best bargains will be picked up quickly.

The store has re-stocked with new goods, just what you need at this time of the year. Visit the store and be convinced that the firm do just as they advertise.

Heard Over the Phone

Millie—Say Rosie, see if Mr. Smith has that new hall ready for use yet, for there is a little party of us that wants to come down and get some ice cream. Some of that "Peerless Brand" and we didn't like to go through the store, you know.

Rosie—I can tell you now. Yes he has it ready and you can look right down the hall and just get a glimpse of one of the rooms which is partly hid by a nice green and red tapestry curtain and it looks nice. It is going to be fine this summer.

Millie—Yes, that Peerless ice cream aint going to be fine for it is fine now.

Lost.
